Blast from the past

Agnes Nolan, the grand doyenne of luxury real estate, wants to sell her own trophy apartment: a penthouse duplex at 271 Central Park West (right). She's put the co-op, where she has lived since 1964, on the market for $13.9 million. The 4,000-square-foot, five-bedroom, 5½-bath home with a wraparound terrace has striking, sweeping views of the park.

When we say grand doyenne, we mean it. Elizabeth Stribling worked for Nolan's company, Whitbred-Nolan, for 14 years before launching her own brokerage, Stribling & Associates, 30 years ago.

Exclusive agent Dolly Lenz of Prudential Douglas Elliman had no comment about Nolan's listing.

On another note, Lenz has just listed two additional trophies at 10 Fifth Ave. and 14 Fifth Ave. — a prime spot downtown — for a combined $26 million.
