

January 11, 2012

WHO'S NEWS

Jaclyn Boulan has joined Stribling & Associates as a vice president at the firm's Upper East Side office.

Before joining Stribling, Boulan served as principal and president of sales at THINK Properties, a New York- and Miami-based brokerage firm. While there, she oversaw new development projects including The Boulan in South Beach, which was named after her.

Prior to THINK Properties, she worked at the Related Companies as a senior sales associate, where she was responsible for over $350 million in sales at The Brompton, a 22-story luxury condominium.

She also spent three years at The Sunshine Group, LTD., as a sales associate. While at The Sunshine Group, Boulan produced over $34 million in sales on site at the St. Regis and over $30 million in sales at 165 Charles Street.

Boulan began her career at Lord & Taylor in New York as an assistant buyer of designer handbags. During college, she interned at Michael Kaminer PR as a marketing and public relations intern. A born and bred Upper East Sider, Boulan attended the Chapin School and graduated from New York University with a degree in communications.

