

BROKERS WEEKLY

November 14, 2012

The four seasons of Central Park unfold through the windows of this 11th floor two bedroom at 230 Central Park West just listed by Stribling's Confidence Stimpson at $3.5 million. The recently renovated home has herringbone floors, a Japanese soaking tub and chef's kitchen. The fully-staffed building was constructed in 1926 and offers a planted roof garden.